Articles

Making the Transition from School to Work. Heath, Sue. Feb. 2007.

"Parents need to start thinking about the transition to adulthood when their children are toddlers. Schools are not required to address this issue until the child is about to turn 16."

Preparing for Employment: On the Home Front. March 2006. "To be successful in life after school, young people with disabilities need to learn specific skills – goal setting, problem solving, decision making, self-knowledge, and self-advocacy. Parents of a child with a disability need to ensure that their child learns these skills."

Transition Planning: Setting Lifelong Goals. Graham, Jennifer. Feb. 2007. "Practical advice and checklists that will help a child make a successful transition from school to employment and/or further education."
